

DEMO COMMERCIAL COURT CASE

Important: This is a synthetic demonstration document created only for testing the AI-driven Commercial Courts POC. It is not a real judgment or court order.

Case Type

Commercial dispute concerning a supply agreement between a manufacturer and a distributor.

Parties

ABC Manufacturing Pvt. Ltd. (Plaintiff) vs. XYZ Distributors Pvt. Ltd. (Defendant).

Key Facts

The plaintiff supplied goods to the defendant under a written commercial agreement. The defendant allegedly failed to pay invoices amounting to ₹18,50,000. The plaintiff claims that repeated demands for payment were unsuccessful.

Legal Issue

The plaintiff is considering institution of a commercial suit for recovery of the outstanding amount. The parties have not yet completed pre-institution mediation.

Question for Research

Whether pre-institution mediation is required before filing the proposed commercial suit when the plaintiff is not seeking urgent interim relief.

Additional Information

The plaintiff does not presently seek an urgent interim injunction. The dispute relates to a commercial transaction and the claimed amount is stated to be ₹18,50,000.